

Money Talks: A Blueprint to Financial Understanding

Every day, our lives are filled with an abundance of opportunities to spend our hard-earned money. Often, we find ourselves making these choices without a complete understanding of the true cost involved. Unfortunately, this lack of knowledge can sometimes result in unexpected and significant expenses.

In this engaging six-session course, we will embark on an exciting journey to empower you with the knowledge and confidence needed to make sound financial decisions. We will delve into various essential topics, ensuring that learning about personal finance is not only informative but enjoyable, as well. The course covers the following areas:

1. Exploring your personal relationship with money
2. Analyzing the costs and benefits of choices involved in financial decision-making
3. Evaluating the impact of spending and debt on your goals
4. Understanding income, taxes and the art of budgeting
5. Discovering and simplifying the multitude of saving and investment options
6. Safeguarding against risk through the effective use of insurance products

Prepare yourself for an exciting journey toward financial literacy. By the end of this course, you'll possess the knowledge and skills necessary to navigate your personal finances with confidence and take control of your financial future.

Thursdays, Aug. 24 - Sept. 28
5724 SW Huntoon St., Topeka, Kan.
5:30 – 8:30 p.m.
Cost: $150

Enroll by calling (785) 670.3353 or email teresa.vasquez@washburn.edu.